Science Time™ Solar Helicopter

Science Time™ brings you a complete new line of educational solar models.

The solar models teach you how solar energy can provide power. These models work without using batteries or burning fuel. You can see how solar power can provide clean and free energy.

Give your children educational toys from Science Time™ and let them experience the benefits of solar power!

The Science Time™ series has 5 different exciting models, all easy to assemble to provide hours of entertainment and education.
